

Newsletter for 1000th run Truro HHH

From the Four Lords pub, St Blazey Gate 26/11/2006

Hares Dishy Goolies and PC69

64 runners NO DOGS

I was minding my own business , having a chat, and not paying attention to our great Hash Master, Furry when he suddenly announced that I had been chosen to write the newsletter. This was obviously a fix in order to obtain the services of a world class author (3rd prize Lower Slaughter Literary Festival 1978).

I was so amazed by this sudden elevation that I completely forgot to take any notes during the run , plus I did not have a pen or paper. What follows is therefore from memory with a lot of help from Liability.

Off we went on a sunny day- there were rumours that we were going to the Eden project and someone said the route was in the West Briton, but I paid no heed to such wild tales.

30 min later we arrived at the Eden project, I said we would not be going in as they were too mean to forgo the J13.80 admission fees. I was wrong, as usual, as DG had arranged free entrance and also FREE BEER courtesy of Edith and Sharps. Also 1000th run cake and West Briton photographer.

ON ON out of Eden to second Hash Halt, this must set a precedent for future runs. Whilst (nice old word don't you think?) at the Halt three young ladies, Rabbit, Little Mermaid and Baby Beaver who I had not noticed before being a married man, were splashed most cruelly by Persil , Liability and De Da, whilst sitting quietly by a limpid pool / muddy puddle. This is surely child abuse.

ON ON back to the pub, where my roast went cold while I observed the DownDowns.

Hares for being Hares

Horny Flasher wearing pyjamas

Haz ??

Pants for being there

Splasher attacking Liability

Rohan Snitching

Karen was named ` Dying for it' as she dyes her hair (look at those roots)

RUN score 1069 PUB score 4

ON ON to free beer at Skinners , or was it a dream...was it all a dream. Great run - DOC
