

Newsletter - The New Inn, Goonhavern - 07/12/08

Hares: Shiite & another

Number of hashers: 32 (not bad considering Christmas Party hangovers).

Number of dog: 2.

There were no down-downs at the beginning of the hash since no beer.

I, Horny Flasher left my shoes in Shiite's car so had to buy another pair on the way to the hash, and I didn't have time to distress them.

We started off along the busy road, but were soon going along lanes and paths, enjoying the cold and crisp weather.

We regrouped at an electric pole which bore a poster for a lost and desperately missed jack russell called Vince. So that's where Furry really got Jack Pascoe from! There was a plethora of fascinating signage on this pole.

At some point, Kizzie Snarled at Jack Pascoe - getting her retaliation in first.

Unknown to us, Persil, front running as usual, had missed a cross and picked up the back trail. He met us at the Hash Halt.

At the Hash Halt we feasted on satsumas, chocolate biscuits, crisps, beer, cider and more. All this opposite a cottage where we were closely observed by a woman working at something just behind the window. She was probably reporting us to Special Branch or even One Cornwall.

As we left we passed a lovely, rather professionally built, tree house. I might just be able to put a deposit on it now if were to sell mine on the current market.

I don't remember the rest. I should have asked Persil since he would have known it rather well by the time we returned.

Down-downs at end of hash:

- Shiite and another for haring.
- Sister Soaker for being just 19.
- Little Nibble for earlier wearing ski pants that lifted and separated - only bras are supposed to do that.
- Tantrum for slave driving Don't Blame Me.
- Haz Bean for something forgotten.
- Horny Flasher for wearing new shoes on the hash.
- Dishy Goolies for wearing badminton shoes.
- Persil for hashing the wrong way around.
- Furry for dog napping.
- Liability for wanting to borrow Hap's suspender belt for something to do with charity. (It always is, isn't it?)
- Grumpy Git for loosing keys.

Score for the run: 119.

Score for the pub: 200p/pint.