Theme: Pink Hash in aid of Breast Cancer Research

Runners: Who knows ? Droop? (I wasn't paying attention – hence this newsletter!)
Canine 1 – loved the bow Jack !

A motley crew assembled at the Lemon Inn in various shades of pink. All outshone by the hares Cheddar & Knickerless, who set the standard of Pinkness for the day.

A scenic route unfolded, eventually culminating in the panoramic view of Devoran Creek. A Hash View of surprising beauty to us all including the front hare, Knickerless, as it was unmarked and unremembered. At which point Gonzo, despite your preference for attending an important football game – surely an oxymoron. You were in our thoughts when the RA muttered your F word.

The stand out feature of the run/walk however was the Hash Halt. Which once alighted upon, it was in Cheddar's unmarked BLUE car ! Was indeed a feast. Everything being pink. Not least the egg and cheese sarnies. Also Cheddar's delicious Pink Bun's – Spelt buNs Spit ! Which the Hares positioned to effect in a Dishy photo reminiscent of 'The Calendar Girls'.

Down Downs were awarded to :

The Hares with a special mention for Knickerless for feeling obliged to eat all the white marshmallows in the pack, prior to the Hash. Could have saved them for a White Christmas K

Pussy Galore –For loss of control of Bike and Car at Centre Parcs

Limpet & S.O. Seaman Staines - For having a strop on and wearing his pink socks inside out. (The abridged version !)

Pigpen - For cadging a lift back from the Hash halt with Cheddar

Spit – For illegal use of a mobile phone (iphones and rear entrances were mentioned but this is unsubstantiated)

Droop – For taking a Charlies when there wasn't one set. Also it was noted that perhaps he should be claiming royalties from Stephen King for being a ' Misery' on the Hash Chat

Blue Rinse – Drew the short straw as a Nobby stand in. Favourite Lesson - History would now be considered Current Affairs & Favourite Singer – used to have bobbins & a treadle. A Singer 66.1 of course ! I remember it well !

PMT – For having a Fisherman admirer who left her the gift of a crab/s. N.B Crustacean 1 Pithirus pubis 0

DBM – For being in charge of Jack Pascoe for 5/7 and not having lost him – yet! Also for dog abuse for attempting to make him sit. Which annoyingly Jack did immediately when the RA, with his clearly superior dog training skills, recounted the tale/tail ?!

Hap – For having an unsecured Tutu - For voting Green and clearing her garden of all greenery. And for winning the Child Abuse Award for suffocating the children in the Gym next door with the smoke from the bonfire of the above greenery having voted against the Roche Incinerator.

I have now, like HB on the Hash, lost the will to live.

On on Blue Rinse

P.S Congratulations to all Hashers who donated to the Raffle and raised £100.00 for Breast Cancer Research
